

Make a Suffragette Daffodil: Step by Step Instructions

In honor of the 100th Anniversary for Women's Right to Vote, we'd like to share this fun and easy craft. The Maine Suffragettes, a group in Maine who fought for women to have the right to vote, wore a Yellow Daffodil flower as a symbol of their cause.

Materials Needed:

Dixie Cups
Wood Paint Sticks (free at your local hardware store)
Elmer's Glue
White Construction Paper
Yellow and Green Paints
Paint brushes
Scissors
Pencil

1. Print out the Daffodil Template found on the last page of this document.

2. Cut out Daffodil template and trace onto white card stock paper as shown:

3. Cut out your construction paper daffodil and paint the with Yellow. Let dry

4.Paint the stem (painter stick) green. Let dry.

5.Paint the inside and outside of Dixie Cup with yellow paint. Let air dry.

6.When Dixie cup is dry (15 mins.), make approximately 18 small cuts around the top edge using scissors and fan out each section as shown:

7.Apply Elmer's glue in center of back of Daffodil Flower and press the green paint stick onto glue; set to dry.

8.Once the green stick is completely adhered to flower, turn over and apply glue to center of Flower and press bottom of Dixie Cup to center; set to dry.

9.Gently turn each daffodil leaf upward to give a more realistic appearance. Enjoy your beautiful homemade Yellow Daffodil all year long!
